

LIBERAL CANDIDATE SPEAKS AT BIG MEETING ON MONDAY LAST

Quite a nice sized crowd were at the theatre on Monday last to listen to the issues of the Federal campaign from the Liberal standpoint, and the candidate for this riding Mr. Raymond Lee. Mr. Provost made out a good case for his party, and for his claims to be returned to power at Ottawa.

The chair was taken by Dr. H. Wallace, who in a neat and fitting speech outlined the principles of the party and introduced the speaker of the evening.

Mr. J. Mackenzie, the president of the provincial association also addressed the meeting, and gave some telling and forceful facts as to the platform and policies of the Mackenzie King government.

In addressing this audience, Mr. Lee said in part:

"The electors have to choose in this election to vote for one of three parties—Liberal, Conservative or Progressives."

The Conservative party has never been a friend to Western Canada. The west was opened and developed its railroads, government elevators and many other public works were carried out by the Liberal governments. The western provinces were given autonomy and were settled up mainly by a Liberal government. Between 1896 and 1911 when the Laurier government was in power, the west grew and was prosperous; good times were general. Before the Laurier government came into power, and also since it went out of power, the west has been stagnant and times have been hard.

The Mackenzie King government has had neither the money, nor the power (it had a majority of one only) to carry into effect Liberal policies, and at this coming election Mr. King was seeking a working majority, and asked for a vote for the return of the Liberal government with a strong working majority and this assure better times for Western Canada.

The Conservative policy of high tariff protection to special industries will undoubtedly make its appeal to those connected with those specially protected industries but it does not appeal to the majority of people of this country, nor does it appeal to the people of the west. We well know that when the tariff is raised the cost of living is raised also. Moreover other specially protected industries are built up, which never make a return on their own feet but are a weight on the backs of the people; and in addition such were always trying to influence the people of Canada in favor of their friends—the Conservative party.

A Conservative government has always been an extravagant one. No Conservative government had ever had a surplus. Between 1911 and 1912, apart altogether from war expenditures the Conservative government increased the capital debt of Canada by 177 millions dollars, while on the other hand, the Liberals during the three short years of their rule.

DEPARTMENT REPORTS MANY COMING BACK FROM UNITED STATES

OTTAWA—The following statement was handed out by the department of immigration:

"Canadians continue to return to Canada from the United States in large numbers. Although September returns are not yet complete, it is estimated that in that month alone 5,000 Canadians who had been resident in the United States for more than six months, returned to Canada declaring their intention of remaining permanently in this country."

In the same period about 1,800 persons entered Canada from the United States as immigrants, largely of the agricultural class and bringing with them cash and effects to enable them to begin farm operations in Canada.

"Some idea of the traffic in tourists and non-immigrant classes is gained from the fact that it is estimated that in September two million persons of these classes entered Canada from the United States."

"While the movement to Canada is increasing the movement of Canadians to the United States is falling off very sharply. At one of the principal border ports the Canadians, both active and naturalized, admitted to the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1924, numbered 28,390. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1925 the number of Canadians admitted to the United States at the same port numbered 14,708—a falling off of nearly 50 per cent."

MR. RAYMOND M. LEE
Liberal candidate for Battle River riding, who addressed a big meeting in the theatre on Monday last.

The recent paragraph in the papers to the effect that Mr. King and Mr. Meighen were born in the same year entered the university together, and were returned in the same year to parliament, prompts a contemporary to predict another coincidence, namely Mr. King will be elected and Mr. Meighen defeated, on the same day and the same hour, on October 29—Vegreville Observer.

"The only voters' lists that can be used are those certified by the registrars, whose business it is to make up and compile lists of voters in each poll, in the electoral districts, and with the additions made by revising officers in urban polls. Therefore when the election writ issues, all voters in town and country should find out at once who are the registrars and see that lists are fully made up and returned to the registrars."

TEACHERS MAKE MERRY AT DANCE CONVENTION CLOSE

To entertain the visiting teachers the Wainwright Staff, with Inspector Nelson, arranged for a concert and dance on Thursday evening. A good audience assembled and the programme commenced shortly after eight o'clock. In the absence of the Chairman, Mr. Rogers of Edmonton presided. The evening was opened by Miss Helen Aykroyd who sang very artistically. "I Sent You a Song" (Sanderson), and "Smilin' Through" (Tann).

Mrs. Pybys and Mrs. Telford then favored the audience with two duet selections which were greatly appreciated and heartily applauded. Mrs. Conquest of Calgary was present as the representative of the Junior Red Cross. She based her lecture upon slides which illustrated Red Cross work and her address was listened to with rapt attention.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. E. Corbett, M. A. of the University Extension Department who took as his subject, "Canadian Humor and Humors"; dealing with this in his own characteristic way. Mr. Corbett is always heartily appreciated by a Wainwright audience and Thursday evening was no exception to the general rule. Canadian Literature is distinctly modern, and hears its own native traits. Mr. Corbett illustrated his lecture by several humorous readings from Judge Haliburton's "Sam Slick" as well as using quotations from Robert Service, Stephen Leacock and Dr. Dummer.

Mrs. Clark concluded this part of the evening by singing very impressively "Keep on Hopin'" (Heron-Macmillan) and "Beautiful World of My Dreams" (Tate).

The programme ended about eleven o'clock, the audience being invited to remain for a short social time; the dancing continued until two o'clock, which was a very pleasant gathering, as well as proving a fitting and relaxing wind-up to the Teachers' Convention of 1925.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WAIN. CONSTITUENCY

The sixth annual conference of the W.I. of Wainwright constituency was held in the United church on October 13 when the sessions were in charge of Mrs. McCrea of Ribstone. The district director, Mrs. Gates of Stony Plain was also in attendance.

An address of welcome was given by the Wainwright president, Mrs. W. Brunner and was replied to by Mrs. Cledenin of Edmonton.

An interesting paper on "Child Welfare" was read by Mrs. Milne, and Mrs. Gates led the discussion on this subject, after which Mrs. G. Pybys delighted all with a piano selection.

Mrs. Trimmer in her report on "Agriculture" showed that the only way to make farming pay was to go in for mixed farming, which had found to be the most successful through this district.

Mrs. J. Middleton then read the report of the Wainwright local, followed by Mrs. E. Keith who favored with a song.

Giving her subject quite a tinge of humor, Mrs. Armour, of Chauvin then reported on "Legislation" and Mrs. Freeman, of the same town spoke on "Canadianisation."

After supper which was served by the town ladies in the restaurant, the session opened with community singing and a lighter part of the conference work was shown by a sketch put on by the Girl's Club of Edmonton entitled, "In want of a servant."

Mrs. Gates spoke at length on "Education and better schools" and Mr. Geo. Hudson addressed the gathering on "Immigration," while sandwiched between these interesting topics, Mrs. W. Clark sang a solo and Rev. G. Leclair rendered a piano number.

Before dispersing the election of officers found the following in charge for the coming year's work:—Covener—Mrs. McCrea, Ribstone; Child Welfare—Mrs. Milne, Edmonton.

Education—Mrs. Smith, Ribstone; Legislation—Mrs. Armour, Chauvin; Immigration—Mrs. Knowles, Wainwright.

Home Economics—Mrs. White, Canadianisation—Mrs. Freeman, Chauvin.

Publicity—Mrs. McCrea, Ribstone.

ANNUAL TEACHERS' CONVENTION HELD HERE IS HUGE SUCCESS

The sixth annual convention of the teachers in the Wainwright inspectorate took place in the Wainwright high school on Thursday and Friday, and would almost appear as if an endeavor had been made to depart as far as possible from the practical interests of the child. Motivation found its basis in interest; humanity has inherited certain fundamental instincts and to these the teacher must appeal.

The afternoon session of Thursday opened with a lesson to her grade eight class by Miss E. McKittick, B.Sc. of the Wainwright staff. This was a first lesson in simple interest, and a practical turn was given to the lesson by having the children work out some problems illustrative of the lesson taught.

Following this the gathering listened to a very fine treatment of the general science course in grade nine given by Principal Hollinshead, B.Sc. This course is one which often gives considerable difficulty to rural teachers, who do not infrequently find themselves confronted by several classes, and little or no scientific apparatus at their disposal. The speaker regarded it as a matter of gratification that such good numbers of the rural teachers were attending this work. This fulfilled two duties: it gave rural children at least one more year in High School, and it tended to check the rush to the cities.

Mr. Hollinshead set up experiments for illustrations and apparatus was used which is easily procurable; going into the course in sufficient detail to assist the teachers to secure better results.

Miss Leda Cook of Kinleith, led the short discussion which followed.

The concluding item on the Thursday afternoon programme was an address by Mr. Kenneth Tooley, of Chatham, "The Relation of Silent Reading to Efficiency in Study," and pointed out that silent reading is a diversity of school work which summons all a teacher's originality. He gave valuable suggestions as to how to secure the best results. A discussion followed in which Miss Beattie Borden of Irma

"Following this school work will be continued as it is remarkable to have a building of this size emptied in thirty seconds."

This is truly a remarkable performance and one which we think will prove almost a record for time."

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE SPEAKS AT BIG MEETING AT THEATRE

The Canada First Policy was promulgated at a big conservative meeting here Tuesday night at the Elites Theatre. The meeting was largely attended, filled with enthusiasm and gave the speakers of the evening a most attentive hearing. The speakers were J. W. G. Morrison the Conservative candidate, A. F. Ewing, ex M.L.A. of Edmonton and Mr. Geo. L. Hudson. Mr. Morrison was given a most cordial reception of striking the platform. He thanked the people of Wainwright.

A farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Suckling, who are leaving for Vancouver was held at the home of Mrs. D. Davison on Friday last when a very pleasant time was enjoyed by a large gathering at court whist.

A MESSAGE FROM LIEUTENANT GOV. RE RED CROSS

People of Alberta.—Citizenship is a birthright of freedom and justice. With it is carried many honours and privileges as well as many responsibilities. True citizenship is the recognizing of its sacred duties, and not the living of a self-centred life, wrapped up in the welfare of self and family, oblivious to the needs of our neighbours. The sacred duties of citizenship embrace the rendering of assistance to those less fortunate than ourselves, and to those in distress in times of disaster or epidemic. We must see that our pioneers in outlying districts are provided with the necessities of life.

We should see that a proper crusade of health education is maintained, so that preventable diseases will be avoided.

All those things cannot be accomplished by a single individual, but they can be accomplished by the Health Authorities, or even by legislation alone but they can be brought about by the sympathy, the whole-hearted goodwill and the financial support of all our people enthusiastically enlisted in a crusade for better living conditions.

To be of service, this support must be effectively and efficiently organized and administered. I firmly believe the Red Cross offers the most effective channel for the direction of such service.

The work of the Alberta Red Cross in establishing and maintaining Outpost Hospitals is very commendable and praiseworthy. Already five of these institutions have been established and are rendering inestimable service to the families of the pioneers residing within the zone of the outposts. They are a perfect Godsend to the women and children who would otherwise be without trained assistance during the critical period of their lives of many women and infants have been saved by the timely ministrations of the Red Cross Nurse at the Outpost Hospital. They are a perfect Godsend in a dual capacity performing the functions of both a hospital and a health centre, helping to improve the condition of those sick and assisting in maintaining the health of those who are well.

The Red Cross is an unselfish service intelligently administered, but it requires your assistance to enable it to carry on its good work and to extend the scope of its activities into districts where they are so urgently needed.

In making this appeal to the people of Alberta, I do so with the firm conviction that it will not fade upon deaf ears. I appeal to you to help the Red Cross "carry on". There is urgent need for funds. With the approach of winter, will come the calls for help. Nursing service and outpost hospitals must be maintained, the crusade of good health must go on. EVERYBODY can help. Even if the donations are small, their numbers will swell them into a great sum.

On October 31st "Red Cross Day" I want a special effort made in every community in Alberta. There are many ways in which funds can be raised. Your community can hold a Concert, a Dance, a Tag Day, a Bazaar, a Sale of Home Cooking or some other form of entertainment and send the proceeds to the Provincial Office. An enthusiastic citizen in each community can obtain grain pledge cards and induce the farmers in their localities to help by donations of grain. All that is needed is a real willing worker actuated by the desire to help the less fortunate within our midst. What are you willing to do? Your best!

for the splendid support given him in 1921 and without further parting launched into the issues of the campaign: laying particular stress on the policy as enunciated by the leader of his party, the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and which policy he claimed was sweeping the country from coast to coast and which without doubt would land the party in power on the 29th of October. Mr. Morrison after dealing with the subject of protection generally made a specific application of the policy to the development of the coal resources of Alberta. The province of Ontario was sending annually over $100,000,000 to the United States coal fields. At the same time we have immense deposits in Alberta which are being only partially developed because we have no coal. The people of Ontario have made every effort to get it but the present government has acknowledged its incompetency in dealing with the problem. The Conservative party proposed to assist in the shipping of coal to Ontario by absorbing a portion of the freight rates, paying this portion out of the federal treasury. If we can by this policy succeed in diverting even fifty percent of the money spent by Ontario in the American coal markets to what it will mean to the province of Alberta generally; and the speaker felt satisfied that because of the fine quality of our coal we would eventually capture the entire Ontario market. The development of our coal resources will mean greater employment for the people of Alberta, and to the railways, greater business expansion and the creation of a home market of incalculable extent for the products of our farms. With this condition of things we would then have increased immigration, low freight rates and a considerable increase in the population. Never before had the people of Alberta such an opportunity presented to them for the improvement of the general condition of things as they have in the adoption of this coal policy of the Conservative party alone. Mackenzie King says it is a fake. He does not say it is a fake in Ontario; he is there trying to frighten people away from the Conservative party by telling them what a huge expenditure it will mean of their pocket to get the Alberta coal into that province. MR MEIGHEN'S BURGLAR ALARM

In those lively open letters of the Prime Minister which have adorned the public press at a tremendous financial cost to the Conservative Party and its financial backers, we are told that the present tariff does not fully protect Canadian industry. It is compared to a defective burglar alarm which keeps out a certain number of burglars, but allows other burglars to get in. If Mr Meighen is returned to power, we are assured that his burglar alarm tariff will be one hundred per cent effective, that no burglar will get in.

The "burglars" referred to are imported goods. Everything imported in to Canada for sale is metaphorically described as a "burglar." The Macken zie King Government is criticized for permitting the entry of any of these goods. The Meighen burglar alarm will keep them all out.

"But if all imported goods are to be kept out, why not have a plain, flat-footed embargo? Why not make it a penitentiary offence to purchase or consume anything not produced in Canada? The prudent householder does not content himself with installing a burglar alarm, but he makes it his business to prosecute the would-be burglar and place him behind prison bars. The burglar alarm is not intended to serve the purpose of a musical instrument, but to aid the householder and the police in rounding up the burglar and placing him behind the bars.

A tariff high enough to keep out all imports is simply an embargo and the embargo is the logical goal of a thoroughly protective tariff. If all foreign goods are bad and an injury to the Canadian people, why permit a percentage of them to come in? Why not keep them all out?

This is the Tory argument in a nutshell. It means that we should cease to trade with other nations. Will such an argument appeal to any British people?

BY ERWIN GREER
(President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago)
You don't have to be an ignition expert to clean a spark plug. Anyone can do it with a little practice—using old plugs to experiment with first. Because of the various grades of gasoline sold these days more and more trouble is encountered with fouling plugs. Ashes of gasoline (carbon) are continually deposited on the plug and, of course, eventually the spark is prevented from jumping across the points. If not cleaned this condition finally results in a dead plug.

Naturally the first operation in cleaning a spark plug is to remove it from the engine cylinder. Many motorists use any old tool as long as the plug comes out. Don't you do this. Get a park plug wrench that will fit your particular type of plug—and use it. If you don't all kinds of complications result from cracked porcelain and other troubles.

The plug is then placed in a vice and a vice-jaw set up on the hexagon at the base of the plug. Here another good wrench must be used (a Wilson never) to remove the packing at or gland, working it off slowly so that you won't injure either the groove in or gasket between the porcelain and shell. Possibly your type of plug has a gasket and it is a good plan to keep new gaskets on hand along with the new porcelains to replace those that are defective.

Now that the plug is taken apart a rag and gasoline come into play. Remove all semblance of carbon and oil from the surface of the porcelain. Do not use a knife, file, steel scraper, sand paper or any other abrasive substance on the plug porcelain. This porcelain is glazed and is intended by the plug manufacturer to be perfectly smooth so that carbon cannot lodge upon it easily. Consequently any abrasive that will cut this glassy surface should never be used. The gasoline and rag will do the work. If it doesn't the plug is try to the other. It dealt he claimed a blow to the struggling butter industry of this province. It means that least $100,000 less money would be distributed next year among the farmers of Alberta north of Red Deer.

In closing Mr. Morrison again appealed to the people to support this policy. He briefly reviewed the political situation in Canada claiming that the King government was already gone and that in its place would come a Conservative government pledged to protect not only the industries of this country which were now languishing but the agricultural interests as well.

In fact the first schedules to be revised could be those looking to the protection of the farmer against unfair competition from other and highly protected nations.

Mr. Ewing gave a forceful address in which he referred to the question of immigration as well as elaborating on the protective policy as was being placed before the people by the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. Mr. Hudson spoke shortly giving it as his firm belief that the policy of the conservative party was the policy for Canada and that the one that was being supported by the people throughout the country. He predicted a victory in this riding for the Conservative candidate. The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem after which cheers were given for the Candidate, Dr. Middleton.

The King Liberal government has been an honest government. It has reduced the cost of government by 110 million dollars per year; it has given the west cabinet representation; and in addition to all it is a National government with an appeal to all the people from coast to coast on the same platform and the same policies. The King government is absolutely in favor of the continued public ownership of the C.N.R. which the Conservatives are not. That railroad under the past capable management has become a real railroad, and is proving competitive to the C.P.R. for business along all lines. The interest of Canada as a whole, and western Canada in particular lies with the Liberal party and its policies.

If the west would send to Ottawa a solid Liberal delegation of members we will then have a voice in the governing of our country both east and west and western policies and desires will be given heed to. By that means progress times in Western Canada will return, and as a result the whole of the country will benefit.

The speaker closed by exhorting his hearers to get away from the smallness and sectionalism of Conservative and Progressive parties and asked their vote and influence for the whole of Canada and Western prosperity under Liberal leadership.

At the close Mr. Lee was accorded hearty applause and after the singing of the National Anthem three cheers and a tiger were given him by the assembled crowd.

our butter was up against 3 cents per pound going in there. So adverse was this to the dairy industry of this province that E. Burns of Calgary was appealing to the farmer organizations to protest against the treaty. Pat Burns who was a life long liberal was supporting the Conservative party. The same protest was made by the president of the Edmonton City Dairy and he also was a liberal. The treaty was condemned from one end of the county to the other. It dealt he claimed a blow to the struggling butter industry of this province. It means that least $100,000 less money would be distributed next year among the farmers of Alberta north of Red Deer.

In closing Mr. Morrison again appealed to the people to support this policy. Annual Convention of Teachers Proves A Huge Success referred to the practice which she had used in this connection.

The initial item on Friday morning programme was a language lesson in grade two pupils by Miss Kathleen Keith of the Wainwright staff. The theme of the lesson was the correct use of the words "saw" and "seen" and the difference in the two words was very effectively illustrated by picture diagrams. The auxiliary words necessary to the use of "seen" were also dwelt upon. After the class had been led to distinguish between the two words by bright interesting questions they gave sentences of their own composition illustrative of the correct use of the words. It may well be pointed out the lessons taught by the two members of the Wainwright staff compare very favorably with the best efforts of teachers on any staff.

An innovation was then made in the programme when the Chairman announced Mr. John W. Barnett, General Secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance. It was decided to organize local branches along this line and the meeting dividing into geographical groups this aim was accomplished.

During the forenoon Mr. Grant M. Saul of Killarney school read a carefully prepared paper on "Play as an Educational Factor." As civilization advances more and more thought is being devoted to the employment of leisure moments, these being directly contributory to one's efficiency. Mr. Saul dealt particularly with play and its relation to school life. Educational authorities are paying great attention to organized play—especially to those games which involve team work.

At those juncture short talks were given by the Misses Helene McCarthy, Marjorie Bennett, Margaret Kain, Mildred E. Smith and Velma Brunner on the opportunities which the summer school offers to teachers. Owing to an oversight Miss Jessie Eberly's contribution to this part of the programme was unfortunately left out. Items of paramount interest to the too old for further use and should be thrown away.

Make a thorough inspection of the porcelain for hairline cracks. Usually these are so tiny that they escape notice. I know of one fellow who uses a jeweller's eyeglass especially for this purpose. He gets results, too. If you come across one or more of these cracks it is a good plan to discard that porcelain entirely. They are the result of heat and under pressure will leak electricity badly.

And take care in reassembling the plug. Set it up carefully and tightly. After it is back in the cylinder it can be tested for leaks by dropping a little oil around the packing gland and about the base, then watching for bubbles. Take care of your plugs and the plugs will reciprocate by giving your engine greater flexibility.

Limited Mail

to meet the Caroline and walk down to the Depot with her.

Unknown to Bob, for the simple reason that the railroad schedule had evidently entered into a conspiracy with Fate to keep its cards under cover, Jim had also battled with quinn of a different sort, finally deciding that it was right and proper and a beautiful privilege for him to center hopeful attentions upon Caroline. Jim had believed through the years that no one could ever take a second and equal place in his heart; but Time uses a quaint and gentle sandpaper, and when his human frailties led him spellbound in the glorious wake of the wonderful girl justified himself on the ground that if he should marry again it would be for the sake of getting a good stepmother for Bobby and not because Caroline, or any other girl would—or could—replace his wife in his heart. Caroline, though, was worthy of unqualified conclusion for her own sake.

A combination of traits and considerations joined the railroad schedule in its odd conspiracy to keep apart the two friends who had hitherto in all things and in all ways had no closed books to one another. To begin with there was Bob's natural predilection for caution and secrecy, developed through years of watchful guardianship over his tongue and his thoughts, cherished thoughts. Even to Jim, Bob had never confessed the past; and now there was no reason to immediately parade something that might be awkwardly stitched into that past were it but known. Then there was Jim's sensitiveness; he wanted to be sure of his emotional justification and confident in his ability to express it before confessing to Bob, but own up he was determined to do just as soon as he was sure of himself—and her. But above all there was the third and most potent complication, the railroad schedule's part—widely divergent hours of work that gave no time or opportunity for confidences, or for those serene moments in which secrets could be led up to an revealed. Going out on the Limited Mail at night, Jim was away all day every second day, laying up at the next Divisional headquarters four hundred miles west. He would return then on the following night, shortly after midnight. That gave him one full day at home, every other day; still as he slept late on those mornings, he did not customarily see Bob unless the latter was on a late schedule. The railroad schedule's entry into Fate's conspiracy was in an unprecedented rush of work for Bob that had kept him away on long runs and had given him much overtime in the few days since Caroline's luncheon debut.

But wise Mrs. O'Leary had been observing the lay of the land and the direction of the wind; for Caroline's hours were such that while Bob saw her every morning, Jim encountered her in the early evenings when he stopped by to leave Bobby. This work ed a double advantage for Bob, who also saw Caroline when he called for Bobby on his way home from work. Mrs. O'Leary had seen that Caroline's interest was in Bob, not in Jim; and in Bobby, but not in his father. She had seen too that Jim was mistaking Caroline's interest in Bobby for circumlocutory interest in himself. And the good Widow furtively trembled in suspense and trepidation as she witnessed the unwitting rivalry of the sworn friends, Bob and Jim, for the innocent and unsuspecting Eve.

One morning, when Caroline was no longer the town's nine-day wonder Bob was gay with the plans of youth and romance as he walked proudly and brightly to the station with Caroline, whose duties required her to be on hand at 6:30 A.M.—the ham and eggs shift—but gave her the late afternoon and all of every evening off. Furthermore, one day a week she had a whole holiday; tomorrow was such a day, she had just told Bob.

"Listen, Caroline, I've put in a barrel of overtime lately and I'm tired enough and feel justified in asking for a day off. What do you say if we have a picnic tomorrow—lunch with pickles and paper navvies and all that sort of thing in the pine grove on Starling Hill?"

"Oh, I'd love to, Bob!"

"It's a cool place and we can walk among the daisies, or loaf on the cliff and watch the clouds sail overhead."

"Poet!" she chafed.

"—and hold hands, and—"

"So, the truth will out—horrid man!"

mockingly.

What the World Is Doing

(As Seen by Popular Mechanics Magazine)

Surfboard Riding on Land In the Latest Sport

Surfboard riding on the turf, behind a motorcycle, was introduced recently at the Crystal Palace, London. The boards were attached to fast machines and the skill of the drivers and riders furnished new thrills to the thousands of spectators. It is said that greater ability is required to navigate the surfboard on land than is necessary for its use on water, while the speeds made were often in excess of those that even the fastest of motorboats have ever attained.

When Plants Sleep

The riddle of sleep, which scientists for centuries have endeavored to solve, is likewise perplexing in the case of plants, for their habits in this particular are widely different. A variety of sensitive plant, the mimosa, gets drowsy and folds up its leaves on the slight provocation of a dark cloud passing over the sun, while night-dwelling cereus bursts open only at the approach of darkness. Some plants go to sleep at midday while many kinds of aquatic flowers open at dawn and close at night with great regularity. Plant sleep is said to vary from ten to eighteen hours and is believed to indicate a nervous system in vegetable life scarcely less than in animals.

Radio Programs Are Bottled for Future Broadcasting

Radio programs from America are "bottled" and re-broadcast a day later to European listeners by means of a system a German inventor has devised. Its equipment consists partly of a long, hard steel wire which is run on spools through a powerful magnetic field. As the impulses are received, they are stored within the wire and when it is run through the broadcasting apparatus later, they are re-sent just as they were registered.

Bees' Honey Output Doubled with Aluminum Combs

Bees will be able to store up more than twice as much honey with aluminum combs that are being made for them. It is figured that it takes fifteen pounds of honey for the bees to manufacture a single pound of honeycomb. Since they require several pounds of wax in which to store their honey, they will save at least seventy-five to a hundred pounds of honey by using the manufactured holders. The metal combs are painted with pure beeswax and are used in the production of extracted honey, where the combs are placed in a machine, called a honey extractor, and whirled around and the honey thrown out by centrifugal force. The empty combs are returned to the bees for re-filling.

Cleaning Tarnished Silverware

Tarnished silverware can be cleaned by means of a solution consisting of 1 oz. of cyanide of potassium (potash) dissolved in a quart of water.

The work can either be immersed in the solution or rubbed with a rag saturated with it. After cleaning, the silverware must be thoroughly washed in clear water and wiped dry.

Corn-Shock Tightener

Binding corn shocks is easily done with a simple device of the kind shown in the drawing. It consists of a broom handle about 3 ft. long, and a length of mah cord provided with three steel hooks, as shown. To use, the cord is whipped around the shock and one of the hooks is slipped over the handle about 10 or 12 in. from the end. By pulling the handle toward himself, the user causes the hook to slide down to the ear and the cord is drawn tight. The handle may then be turned downward, the ear holding the shock together while it being bound with ordinary twine. The tightener is released by lifting the handle so that the cord can be detached.

You can transact business of a purely local nature or enter into financial dealings with people in any part of the world.

Like the telephone, telegraph or cable, our system of financial service is as extensive as are the needs of our customers.
